LAWRENCE DEBATERS TO TOUR EAST IN SPRING

FACULTY PUTS O. K. ON PLANS AS OUTLINED

Veteran Squad Prepares For Extensive Season Under A. L. Franzke

By Hayward Biggers

A Lawrence College debate team will tour the eastern section of the United States next spring, it was announced Friday, after faculty approval of the plans as outlined by Edwin West, '32, debate manager.

Plans for an extensive tour were included in the original draft outlined before President Wriston soon after West had been appointed. The proposal was explained to the faculty in meeting last Friday and was approved.

The trip will include spring vacation and the weekends before and after the recess, a total of 18 days, according to present plans. No schools have been scheduled as yet, but the abundance of colleges and universities in the eastern states lends promise of a desirable schedule.

Veteran Squad Here

It will be the second extensive debate tour in three years, a Viking team having traveled to the Pacific Coast in 1929. Coach Franzke is especially desirous of meeting strong competition this year inasmuch as he has a squad of veterans from which to choose his team. There are 11 experienced members of last year's squad now preparing for the tryouts which will be held this month.

Rules of eligibility for the trip next spring will be the same as those enforced for the western trip two years ago. The student must have an average of at least 85 and must not have shown a marked weakness in any subject. Every participant in the tour will have to receive faculty approval before allowed as a member of the team, the faculty decided.

The Lawrence forensic record under Coach Franzke is recognized as one of the most impressive in the United States. Of more than 45 decision contests Lawrence has been winner in 42, all three set backs being experienced on Pacific coast trips. Two of the debates were lost on a western trip eight years ago and the third was lost on the tour in 1929. Franzke's teams have participated in upwards of 125 nondecision contests, his emphasis being laid upon that form of debate.

Lawrentian Staff To Meet Tonight In Office

All freshmen and upperclassmen who have signed for Lawrentian tryouts, and all others interested in competing for positions on the staff will meet in the Lawrentian office at 7 o'clock this evening.

Hayward Biggers, editor, will be in charge of the meeting and will outline the activity of the staff during the next few weeks. Announcement of the staff selections will be made within the next three weeks, according to Biggers.

Article By Frampton Appears in "Etude"

A full page article on the Hungarian Rhapsodies of Franz Liszt, written by Prof. Ross Frampton, of the conservatory of music, appears in the last issue of Etude, national music review. The article discusses the value of Liszt music, especially the rhapsodies.

Many of Professor Frampton's articles have been published in Etude during the last 10 years.

Campaign For Funds Postponed

Wait Until Next Spring To Continue Present Work, Chairman Says

"Sell Lawrence College to Appleton," was the plea of Gustave Keller, Sr., in an address at the Conway hotel to the campaign workers who are trying to raise $90,000 for the college, in announcing the postponement of the campaign until next spring.

"A suspension of activities in this campaign has been called because of many factors," Mr. Keller said. "Members of the various teams are dismissed, but I am pleading with them to inaugurate a program of publicity for Lawrence college."

"The college has planned a development program which involves the expenditure of millions of dollars. The part Appleton has been asked to contribute, altogether $250,000, is but a small portion of the entire sum. The balance will be raised outside the city. Appleton is not going to fall down on its share of the job."

"We would rush head over heels to raise money to bring a new industry to the city and yet we don't stop to realize that we have an institution here which is annually bringing $800,000 into the city's business coffers. Few realize that the college could do as well without Appleton but that Appleton could not do as well without the college. And this is speaking from a strictly business standpoint and does not take into consideration the cultural benefits the college brings to us."

"Many people say that the $250,000 which Appleton has been asked to raise is too large a sum."

Balance From Outside
"It is too large? The college contemplates a building program which will bring millions of dollars into the city. The city is being asked to contribute only a very small portion of the total. The balance will come from outside, but Appleton will benefit from every penny that is expended. Lawrence college has been in existence in Appleton for 83 years. Certainly the city owes the college a debt of gratitude."

Mr. Keller explained that because of the small number of workers, their inability to canvass all prospects, and the prevailing business conditions, the officials decided to postpone further efforts in the drive until spring.

PERSONNEL OF COLLEGE BAND IS ANNOUNCED

Jones, Else Select 18, Following Series Of Tryouts; Meet Thursday

Visions of a pep band at Lawrence college are rounding into a reality as John Paul Jones and Franklin Else, both seniors, and directors of the organization, have announced the personnel of the band.

Eighteen men, excluding the directors and a drum major yet to be named, form the organization. This group will report at the Observatory Thursday evening at 7 o'clock when the first rehearsal will be held.

Eighteen Chosen

Those who were successful in securing positions in the band following the tryouts during the past several days are: cornets, Harold Sperka, Paul Hesselgrave, Richard Fuller, Jack Best, and Orvis Schmidt; tubas, Robert Ruedebush and Jack Thorne; clarinets, Lester Voight and Robert Bertram; trombones, Clifford Collins; Gerald Brown, and Gerald Franz; altos, Kurt Regling and William Ackerman; snare drums, Sam Smith and Milton Spohr; bass drum, Walter Barnes; and baritone, Herbert Rehfeld.

The directors have announced that regular rehearsals will be held until the band makes its initial appearance at the game between Lawrence and Hamline to be played at the George A. Whiting field on Saturday, October 17. The band will make its first appearance in uniforms on the day of homecoming, October 25.

Plan Awards

Uniforms for the band members will be the colors of the college, blue and white. They will be secured through the generosity of the student senate at an estimated cost of $300. The band members will receive their rewards too, the directors of the band has stated. It is possible that the individual reward will be in the form of a key or a minor "L".

German Concert Artist, Idol Of Country, Will Sing Here

By Helen Hector

The first of the six concerts on the program of the Community Artist Series for this season, will be the vocal concert of Heinrich Schlusnus, leading baritone of the Berlin State Opera company, who will appear on October 30, in the Memorial chapel.

Schlusnus, the idol of Germany, and a favorite concert singer of many European countries, has made few American tours, as compared to the records made by many of the artists before the public eye today, but in the three seasons during which he has given performances in this country, he has won the approval of even the most exacting critics.

Hailed By Press

The press notices which followed his appearances with the Chicago Civic Opera Company, and in many concerts, have characterized his voice as a full, resonant baritone, intensely dramatic and robust, which is employed naturally and without sign of affectation. Added to the beauty of his voice is the rare artistry with which he sings, as well as his mastery of the almost forgotten style of Bel Canto.

Fighting Vikes Surprise Cardinals In First Half

Secure Touchdown In Initial Period But Numbers Defeat Blue and White

By Jack Willem

Fighting, daring—Eddie Kota's little squad of Lawrence gridders, seeing a minor part of Glen Thistlethwaite's host of fifty-odd Badgers roll over a dogged and spiritless Carleton defense, went out on Camp Randall Saturday afternoon and played until they went down, tired but fighting, to an overwhelming numerical defeat, 53 to 6.

But before you glance too harshly and critically at the final score, ponder a while on the figures at the end of the first half. Score, 14 to 6. Here was a Lawrence team, led by Marquette 14 to 0 at the halfway mark, scoring on Wisconsin! True, the bone crushers of the Badger squad were not in the game, but the goal line had been crossed, and Thistlethwaite had seen how a passing attack should be worked. Ten times a Viking back threw a pass, and eight times the pass found its mark. The referee motioned the head linesman to move the yard chain seven times while Wisconsin had the ball, and just one time less for Lawrence.

Carleton, in going down to a 28 to 0 defeat in the opening half of the double bill, had faced only a small portion of what the Badgers had in their system. Lawrence, displaying surprising strength, faced everything Wisconsin had to offer in the second half. Eleven fresh Badgers waited for the tired Vikes as they came out from the dressing room, and these Badgers used everything until the Vikings wilted from sheer physical exhaustion. Wisconsin rolled up a big score, yes, but after all, their big margin of victory seemed hollow.

Regulars Out

Coach Eddie Kota drew his men out, one by one, as the Badgers deliberately and precisely rolled up the count. One by one the men came out, tired, and injured, and the Lawrence team that the Badgers rolled up the big count on was not the team that had angered Glen Thistlethwaite by crossing the goal line in the first half. The personnel was changed, and Kota left the Badgers with the field and a substitute Lawrence eleven to do with as they willed.

To Charley Barnes go the laurels. But a puny lad in comparison with the heavy Badger backs, the flashy quarterback picked up 35 yards from scrimmage, electrified the stands with his brilliant runs and snaring of passes, and daringly generated the Vikings to within six short yards from the goal line in the opening minute and a touchdown in the second quarter. And not until he went out of the game early in the third period because of a severe leg injury did he give up fighting.

The most severe injury was received by Laird, who played a whale of a game at end and who scored the only Viking touchdown. The angling co-captain suffered a broken jaw early in the game, but played in spite of the injury until he was removed. Husky Frank Schneller had several ribs cracked and sustained a bad injury to his knee.

Men's Glee Club Is Reorganized

Tryouts Begin This Week For Place On 35 Year Old Group

An organization which dates back 35 years of existence on the Lawrence campus, will be reorganized for the season, during this week. This organization is the Lawrence College Men's Glee club, composed of selected voices of the college and conservatory. In past years the average number in the chorus has ranged between 40 and 60 members, which are chosen through elimination tryouts, from the original number of recruits which averages about a hundred a year.

Tryouts Now On

Dean Carl J. Waterman, director of the group, is conducting tryouts of all men who are interested, during this and next week. Applications are to be made with the secretary of the conservatory office, who will arrange the schedule of trials.

The Glee club has had many very successful seasons, during which concerts have been given in Wisconsin, Illinois and Minnesota. No definite plans have been made, as yet, for this year's activities, but the annual spring concert tour will probably be arranged as usual. As well as this itinerary of cities of neighboring states, the club gives an annual home concert in the Memorial chapel, at the close of the concert program. The concert this year will be one of the attractions on the Community Artist Series.

Waterman Is Director

Carl J. Waterman, who is director of the ensemble, as well as of the Schola Cantorum, and the A Cappella Choir, was honored recently by Centenary College of Schreveport, Louisiana, when the degree of Doctor of Music was conferred upon him for his excellence in directing choral groups. He has directed the Lawrence Glee club for more than 20 years, and has developed the group into a fine ensemble which is noted for its superior merit.

STRANGE NAMES COMMITTEES TO WORK ON PLANS

Program For Oct. 25 Will Be Similar To That Of Other Years

By HOLLACE ROBERTS

Through the efforts of John Strange, '32, Neenah, general chairman, and members of the committees which he recently established, plans are moving rapidly toward completion for the 1930 Lawrence college homecoming which will be held Saturday, October 25.

Committees appointed by Strange, chairmen of which were previously announced, are as follows: dance—Harold Sperka, chairman; Ralph Calburn, Dan Hopkinson, Frances Beauhieu, Avis Kennicott, and Carmen Negrescu; dormitory decorations—Mary McCormick, chairman; Marion Vidal and Dorothy Howell, Sage; Helen Kavel and Irene Neegaard; Peabody; Martha Farmer, Ruth Levensky and E. Sovde, North House; Harriet Britton, Edith Kozelka, and Viola Sperka, Ormsby; Joseph Kexel, Kenneth Vaillancourt, and Peter Karsten, Brokaw; fraternity house decorations—Charles Barnes, chairman; Carl Bury; Irolic—Cecelia Werner, chairman; Irene Ungrodt, Charles Culmer, and Elmer Johnson; floats and parade—Eddie Koch, chairman; Henry Gram, James MacGregor, and William Foote; alumni—Robert Mulford, chairman; Jeannette Jenkins, Esther Schauer, and John Reeve.

While these committees have been appointed and are at work on the plans, nothing definite has been formulated and made ready for announcement. It is definite, however, that the homecoming, which will be held in conjunction with the Carroll-Lawrence game, will be patterned much after the celebration of last year.

It is already an assured fact that a massive pep meeting and a torch light parade will be held on Friday night preceding the homecoming day. Some sort of entertainment is being planned to follow the night parade. On the Saturday morning of the big day, the annual homecoming parade will be held on the streets of Appleton. Floats of fraternities and student organizations will constitute the major portion of the parade which has always been one of the big features of homecoming. In the afternoon the football game will hold the spotlight and in the evening the strenuous activities of the day will be forgotten as the Lawrence students and alumni alike turn to a few short hours of frolicking and revelry at the dance to be held at the new Alexander gymnasium.

More details concerning the activities, both athletic and social, will be published as soon as they are made known by Chairman Strange or members of his committees.

Alpha Adelpian To Hear Fairfield Talk

The program of study for Alpha Adelpian chapter will be supplemented with lectures by Dr. O. P. Fairfield, professor of art, about once a month, according to decision of the chapter made at the last meeting. The lectures will be delivered at the regular meeting time in Professor Fairfield's classroom.

Courage

"Courage from hearts and not from numbers grows," Dryden's statement, had it been well known, might have flashed through the minds of many as they watched the Lawrence-Wisconsin game at Madison Saturday.

The Vikings were defeated badly—in the last half—but to the end they displayed a courage that is a credit to every man on the squad and to Lawrence College. Overwhelming odds forced even the most optimistic fan to concede Wisconsin the victory. However, all of us believed that the Viking team would not be the setup Wisconsin expected, and this conviction was more than justified in the first half when COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY ELEVEN'S PLAYED ON EVEN TERMS.

But 11 men can't play 60, and as it became necessary for Coach Kotal to relieve his weary regulars, the Lawrence team was weakened. On the other hand, the Wisconsin crew grew stronger and stronger as Thistlethwaite shoved in new men by fives and tens. This accounts for the second half.

This second half was termed by the newspapers as "disastrous to Lawrence." This may be so, but still the sportsmanship was there; so was the spirit, the fight, and the determination, all essential qualities in the athlete, but—qualities which are hard to maintain in the face of such overwhelming odds.

It was courage of the heart which enabled the Lawrence men to fight all the way; not the courage gained from numbers which was the source of energy in the Wisconsin attack.

The Talkies

"You was there."

"No, I wasn't."

"Yes, you was."

This dialogue, says the London Daily Sketch, was not overheard in the London slums, but is quoted from the scenario of an American talkie film. It was intended to represent a conversation between two members of the British aristocracy, and was in the text of a part, portrayed by a well known British film star.

When interviewed, the star explained that he had protested against the grammatical mistakes that were put into his mouth, but to no avail. The producer told him the language must be correct for it had all been okayed by the company's "expert Englishman."

The Sketch article goes on to comment as follows: "The language in historical films is often ludicrously modern. In one talkie a courtier was made to address Queen Elizabeth thus: 'That's O.K., Elizabeth'."

"Someone suggested that this was not exactly in period, upon which the producer said, 'Very well, then, we'll make it, That's O.K., Elizabeth, forsooth. That'll do.'"

Franzke's Debate Team Tours East In Spring

Impressive Record

Last spring a Lawrence team defeated a duo from Redlands University, Redlands, California in the last debate of the season here, thereby marring an otherwise undisputed Redlands' claim to a national championship.

The Redlands team had made an extensive eastern tour, challenging all schools that had a forensic record the least bit impressive. The California school had won every decision until it met Erwin Marquardt and Robert Beggs, the Lawrence team. The victory added to the prestige Professor Franzke has attained in national forensic circles.

This year he feels he has six or more debaters all of whom are likely material for an invasion of the strongest forensic schools in the east. William Morton and Dan Hopkinson comprised a Lawrence team which invaded southern Michigan last spring and defeated an Iowa State Teacher's College team by a vote of 31 to 1 ratio before an impartial audience of more than 1000 students of Western State Teacher's College of Michigan.

"It is not our desire to have decision debates," Coach Franzke has said, "but we have never refused a challenge."

Former Carroll Star Coaches In Milwaukee

Oscar Gluck, forward on Carroll College's championship Little Four cage team, will be coach of the South Milwaukee high school cagers this coming season, according to reports received from downstate. Gluck, paired with Hinckley and Vandermeulen, formed one of the strongest, if not the strongest, front trio's in the state.

Basketball fans here will remember that it was this man Gluck who spelled the one point defeat handed the Vikings by the Pioneers in their second engagement last winter. His free throw, two minutes before the final gun gave his team a three point lead which was whittled down two points by a Viking basket.

The only Balance pen and pencil is Sheaffer's.

The College World has "gone Sheaffer"

The plain fact is that among the hundred leading American colleges, each having 1,700 or more students registered, more Sheaffer's are bought than any other make. That's understandable enough, once you're acquainted with Sheaffer's four advantages: (1) individualized pen points, (2) the Balance° design that makes for easier, speedier writing, (3) the modern beauty of the Balance° contour, (4) the Lifetime° guarantee of satisfactory service.

Since all that comes with Sheaffer's Balance° Lifetimes°, why be content with less?

Now that the Wisconsin and Marquette games are over, the Vikings can begin their sewing for that Little Four pennant or the Midwest banner. There are no alibis being offered for the two beatings suffered by the Vikes in their first two attempts; no occasion for looking back. All eyes ahead!

It looked for awhile as though Eddie Kotal's ball club was going to make a better meal for the Badgers, but the game lasted too long. The blue and white regulars managed to play the cardinals on fairly even terms the first half, but the fresh influx of men by Thistlethwaite in the second half proved the turning point. The Lawrence men, battered, tossed around, and smashed by a much heavier team proved unable to cope with the Wisconsin driving attack.

Charlie Barnes again proved that he will be one of the season's best bets, and that it's going to be hard for pressmen to leave him out when they start picking their all conference teams. Chuck played bang-up ball and was one of the highlights in the Lawrence attack until injured by a savage Badger block. The injury will keep Barnes out of uniform for at least two weeks.

Another "no good" result of playing Wisconsin was the fractured jaw suffered by Ken Laird. The plucky, fighting end played almost an entire quarter with his jaw broken by keeping his teeth clinched. Words fail when it comes to describing the spirit and heart of such a player. This injury will put the stellar Viking end on the shelf for several weeks.

AND NOW THAT RIPON, LAWRENCE, AND CARROLL HAVE AGAIN PROVEN CONCLUSIVELY TO THE SATISFACTION OF MANY THAT THE SMALL COLLEGE GRID TEAM CAN'T HOPE TO COMPETE SUCCESSFULLY WITH BIG TEN SCHOOLS, MAYBE THEY WILL DEVOTE THEIR EFFORTS TO BUILDING BIGGER AND BETTER CONFERENCES!

Although only a few fans journeyed to Madison, almost all of the remainder were martyrs beside the radio. A Milwaukee station, with a quite evident Badger follower as announcer, gave a most vivid account of the Wisconsin team. Occasionally, he mentioned a Lawrence player or a nice piece of work on the part of the Vikings. He said something about broadcasting with remote control, and we can agree heartily with him.

Plan Sport League For Non-Greek Men

100 STUDENTS EXPECTED TO PARTICIPATE

New Addition To Intramural Program Will Not Compete With Fraternities

By Roy Sample

Plans are rapidly getting under way for the organization of a non-Greek sports league, a distinctly unique addition to Coach A. C. Denney's intramural program, which will provide athletic competition for more than 100 Lawrence men who are not affiliated with campus fraternities. This league will, in no way, compete with the interfraternity representatives; it is simply an opportunity for the non-fraternity man to enjoy the benefits of team play and friendly rivalry which he has previously been denied.

Broadens Program

In another sense, the organization of this group will serve as a broadening of Coach Denney's "sport for every man" program which has hitherto been confined to all campus and intramural competition. Until recently these two classes of competition have included a majority of the men students, but investigation has revealed a larger percentage of non-fraternity men than ever before. It is for this group that the league is primarily designed. Athletic heads feel that now the sports program of the college is not complete without these men competing.

According to Wayne Vincent, '31, head intramural manager, only a few definite plans have been prepared thus far. Since work on the plans was begun a week ago, 25 men have signed up and more are coming in steadily. The first major meeting of the group will be held Wednesday afternoon in Miss Bethurum's room in Main hall at 1 o'clock. Enough men to make up at least four teams are expected at this meeting, and the attendance of every non-fraternity man is urgently requested by the athletic department.

Tentative Plans Made

A tentative schedule includes volleyball, basketball, swimming, handball, tennis, track relays, and baseball. A definite program modeled on the interfraternity schedule is being arranged, and a point system will be used as the basis of awards to the various groups. These awards to be made at the end of the season will probably be in the form of individual

Carleton, Beloit, And Ripon Also Are Defeated Saturday

Midwest and Little Four conference teams started their second week of football play and ended up with none too impressive results.

The double bill at Camp Randall stadium was watched with interest by many of the fans, but the outcome was expected. Carleton College, playing the first game of the doubleheader, seemed to be a better match for the Badgers than Eddie Kotal's Vikings. The Northfield crew took a 28 to 0 whitewash while the Lawrence team managed to snare a touchdown, and play the cardinals on even exchange in the first canto, but lack of reserves let the Wisconsinites loose in the second half to roll up a top heavy 53 to 6 count.

Beloit Loses

Thistlethwaite's men, football hungry, smashed through the rapidly wilying Viking line for 39 points in the second half. The pass attack of the Kotalmen in the first half kept the Badgers fighting hard.

Beloit took a 19 to 0 reverse at the hands of Lake Forest. Jaggard's men played almost as ragged ball as in their encounter last week with Northwestern. The Gold Coasters, led by "Faust" Ferzacca, were working like a machine and outplayed the gold eleven completely.

The University of Chicago took the rubber game of their three game series with Ripon by a 19 to 0 score. Coach Stagg's passing attack left the Riponites flatfooted. The game was the first of the season for Doehling's squad and the Ripon coach will have another week in which to erase the faults of his men.

medals. The manner of dividing the men into groups has not been decided upon, but plans of this nature will be in progress after tomorrow's meeting.

Greek Cup Race Begins On Courts

Three Games Are Scheduled For This Afternoon; Sig Eps Draw Bye

Racquets will swing and tennis balls will be driven here, there and everywhere on the college courts Tuesday afternoon as the Greeks inaugurate their annual campaign for athletic supremacy. Tennis is the first sport on the fraternity calendar and each team is prepared to get off to a good start in the spirited race which is bound to exist until the let-up of activities next spring.

Three games will be played Tuesday afternoon, if possible, and, if not, the preliminary round will be completed Wednesday afternoon. In the opening matches the Betas are prepared to battle the Phi Taus, the D. I.'s will meet the Psi Chis, and the Delta Sigs will furnish opposition to the Theta Phis. The Sig Eps drew a bye in the pairings last week and will not get into action for at least another week.

Announce Teams

Athletic managers of the several fraternities on the campus have announced that the following men will, in all probability, represent their respective groups in the games this week: Phi Taus, Robert Valentine and George Hall; Psi Chis, Adolph Rusch and Donovan Ballard; Sig Eps, Austin Stegath and Marshall Wiley; Betas, Robert Hunt and a man yet to be named; D.I.'s, Joseph Negrescou and either Lyman Marceau or Paul McKahan; Theta Phis, John Cinkosky and either Hay Big-

Schedule Games For Frosh Football Team

With arrangements practically complete for games with the Menominee Military academy of Menominee, Michigan, on Nov. 8, and with St. Johns' military academy on Nov. 15, the frosh gridders continued to shape their offense and defense against Kotal's varsity in an attempt to whip both into shape for the two tough struggles.

In addition to scheduling these two battles for his frosh squad, Eddie Kotal got St. Norbert's college of De Pere in line for a game with a proposed varsity B squad on Oct. 17, a new arrangement for Lawrence grid men.

The two frosh games are on enemy fields and should more than test the calibre of the freshman guns. According to reports from Menominee and Delafield, both schools boast unusually strong elevens that are already making their presence felt in their respective districts, and barring unforeseen accidents both should have banner years.

Marquette Cage Games Announced

Hilltops Play Here First; Lawrence Quint Goes South Feb. 16

Definite announcement of the dates of the Lawrence-Marquette basketball games has been made by Lawrence officials. On Jan. 31, 1931, the Marquette quint will put on an exhibition at the new Alexander gymnasium, while on Feb. 16, the Denney-men will go downstate for a visit with the Milwaukeeans.

This year will find a new man to direct the destinies of the Marquette cage squad. William Chandler, former Wisconsin star, was selected to replace Cord Lipe, former mentor.

Chandler played center on the Badger fives of 1915, 1916, and 1917 and has been in the coaching game ever since. He was twice named all-conference center while in college.

The new Marquette coach has coached two years at River Falls, where he won two championships. Following that, he became coach at Iowa State College where he again turned out strong quints.

HARRIERS DRILL; HOPE FOR MEETS

Difficulty In Securing Opponents
Does Not Discourage Denney's Men

Coach A. C. Denney's cross country men continue to grind out the miles of practice while their mentor is striving to schedule meets for his apparently too powerful squad. As yet, little success has greeted Denney's efforts, but rumors of three probable acceptances have kept the long distance men in edge in their practice sessions.

Long grinds over mapped courses have been the program to date, and according to the coach, little change will be made in the preparatory plans until the men get the feel of the long treks. Unofficial timing reveals the fact that several hopes are stepping off the distances in fairly fast time for this early in the season, and improvement is apparent in every man's condition.

Carroll College—Two means by which members of the student body become better acquainted are Carroll Day, when everybody rode out to Waukesha Beach for a College picnic, and the Annual Handshake. Both were held last week, the latter at the gym where faculty and freshmen were introduced to each other.

The student body is composed of 169 freshmen, 110 sophomores, 76 juniors and 74 seniors, with a total enrollment of over 450, largest in Carroll's history.

Butler College—In order to put school colors in the public eye, the cap committee of the Union has changed the color of the frosh cap from the traditional green to the colors of the school, with huge success.

Carthage College—Feeling that the school yells have become antiquated, one of the professors has offered a prize to any student submitting a worthy yell.

The new game of Speedball has been introduced in the gym classes with such success that an intramural tournament will soon be scheduled between the four classes. The game is composed of the elementary features of football, soccer, and basketball, and allows 22 men to play at one time.

Viking's Passing Keeps Badgers Alert First Half

outpassed, and outfought the Badgers to hold them almost even in the first half is no show at partisanship. The Vikings passed the Badgers to death, and but for the fact that they were too eager, they would have scored in the opening minute of play.

Wisconsin played the kickoff poorly, and Oman punted out to the 43 yard line. Passing on the first play, Fischl and Laird gained three yards. Then Barnes reeled off 18 on a fake pass and the ball rested on the Badgers' ten yard line. Cinkosky hit the line for four, and Barnes added another. Then the favorite pass to the left side of the line failed by inches, and Fischl attempted a place kick which missed. The threat was over.

The opening quarter ended scoreless, the Badgers opened a relentless driving attack with Oman carrying the ball on practically every play until he went over from the five yard line. Linfor kicked goal. Jensen recovered Barnes' fumble as the Vikings had started a drive from midfield, and then a pass to the blonde back netted another touchdown. Jensen picked the ball out of the air, shook off two Vike tacklers, and sprinted 45 yards to the goal line.

Vikings Score

Here Lawrence made a daring play and it worked. Following the kickoff Trankle failed to gain with the ball on the 20 yard line. A pass, Fischl to Barnes, netted 45 yards, and then another lightning like bolt to Laird sent the ball over the Wisconsin goal. In three plays the Vikings had gone 81 yards for a touchdown. Fischl missed the try for the extra point.

The half ended with the Badgers holding a one touchdown lead. Lawrence had completed eight out of ten passes for a total of 155 yards, and had gained six first downs.

The Vikings felt the fury of the Badger attack in that second half, although they almost scored on a beautiful run by Paul Fischl. Wisconsin had kicked off, and the Viking half had nabbed the ball on his own goal line. The fleet youth sprinted toward the sidelines and he appeared free with a clear field ahead of him when a Badger tackler reached out and managed to grab his foot. Had Paul succeeded in eluding that flying grab Lawrence would have been certain to score again.

But from then on Wisconsin steam-rolled its way down the field. Lawrence made but one more initial down as Wisconsin collected six touchdowns and five points after the scores. The features of the Badger attack were the 65 yard run by Reholz, who held the scoring honors for the day, and Sammy Behr's 75 yard gallop through the entire Lawrence team.

Carleton, in the first game, scored four first downs, completed five passes for 75 yards, and gained 23 yards from scrimmage.
